In COUNTERPRIT MONEY.—The case of Nelson Driggs, who, it will be remembered, was arrested a few days ago with nearly four thousand dollars in counterfeit money upon his person, has been continued at the request of the Mayor until the 23d inst. The bail was fixed by Judge Lowe at $2,500, which Driggs immediately gave and departed.

FATAL ACCIDENT — A CRILD INSTANTLY KILLED BY A FALL.—A child about eighteen months old, daughter of a widow named Margaret Boland, residing on Main-street, near Liberty, about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, fell from the second-story of the house to the side-walk, and was instantly killed. The mother, we understand, was looking out of the window, the child being seated on the sill; but in its playfulness it sprang out and was dashed to pieces on the pavement. BURGLARY ON FIFTH-STREET,—The residence of a man named John S. Adams, located on Fifth-street, near the Whitewater Canal, was feloniously entered night before last and robbed of money, jewelry and other valuables to the amount of about $75. The entire lower story of the building was ransacked so noiselessly and thoroughly that the burglars found and secured almost every little article of value, and then left the house; the immates all the time unconscious of the presence of visitors.

ANTIAHOTEN'TH

The Council mel at the daufal louir, President Eggleston in the chair. The minutes of the previous evening were read and approyed, Mr. Runyan moved that when Council adjourn, it adjourn till Friday evening. Carried.

Mr. Noble presented an ordinance appropriating $935 to defray the expenses of the late election. Passed.

Mr. Torrence presented an ordinance appropriating $63 to defray the expenses of the city.

Mr. S. S. Davis moved to strike out $63 and insert $70. Carried. The ordinance was then passed—ayes 27, nays 3.

Mr. S. S. Davis moved to strike out $63 and insert $70. Carried. The ordinance was then passed—ayes 27, nays 3.

Mr. S. S. Davis presented the monthly report of the Trustees of the Water Works, which was received and filed.

The monthly report of the Mayor was received and filed.

The monthly report of the Mayor was received and filed.

The first special order, being the ordinance re-organizing the corps of City Engineers, was then taken up.

On motion, the engrossment was reconsidered, when Mr. Weasner moved to strike out $1,100, as the salary of the Chief Engineer, and insert $1,200.

Mr. Noble moved to insort $1,600.

Mr. Marsh opposed the raising of salaries, and condemned the Opposition party and its administration as the most extravagant ever known.

Mr. Runyan moved that when Council ad-Pinn's Orena-House.-The second repre fal picture of a street and the procession of the Sa-cred Burning Altar, after which "Beilben," (Mr. Conway,) the bereavel Patriarch, in company with "Jepthele" (Viola Crocker,) arrives in search of known.

Mr. Whitcomb defended the city adminis-

"Jepthele" (Viola Crocker,) arrive in search of "Azael."
The curtain next rises upon a representation of the subterranean temple of Ivis, which occupies the entire depth of the immense stage of the Opera-house, and is finely conceived and admirably executed. Here "Azael" witnesses the sacred orgios of the priests, having been conveyed thither by the syron "Nefts," through a socret passage, and meets his betrethed "Jepthele," who has been seized as an intruder, and intended as a victim to be sacrificed to the spirit of the Nile. Through the interference of "Azael," however, she excapes, and the maddened priests drag him up the huge flight of temple steps to hurl him into the Nile.

The third and last act opens with a scene in the desert, followed by a vision of "Azael" and the aptration, and said no favoriteism had ever been used in awarding contracts. Mr. Mack wanted to know whether or not Mr. Mack wanted to know whether or not Mr. Marsh had gone over to the Democrats? He was in favor of giving the laborer all that he was worth. The Opposition had always gnarded the interest of the city better than other party.

Mr. Moore opposed the raising of the salaries, but was sorry that the matter had taken a political turn. Men ought to do what they conscientiously think is right.

Mr. Weasner said to raise the salary was the only way to retain competent men, there-

Mr. Weasner said to raise the salary was the only way to retain competent men, therefore he favored it. The finances of the city were in a better condition now than five years previous. The present administration had been an economical one.

Mr. Noble opposed the raising of salaries, at least at present. The ordinance proposed to raise the salaries of the officials and reduce that of chain carriers. The engineers get enough. The third and last act opens with a scene in the desert, followed by a vision of "Azzel" and the appearance of the Spirit of the Deert. The Prodigal is returning to the home of his father, his limbs swollen and weary, his mouth parched with thirst, and his brow burning with faver. At length he reaches the Valley of Gessen; "Jepthelo" recognizes her betrothed, who, in the agony of shame, sinks at his father's feet, and the drama closes with a splendid tableau.

The above heatily writtens ketch of the scenery of this magnificent apectacle will suggest only an idea of its beauty, which must be seen to be fully appreciated. The belief has been admirably drilled, and the dances are gracefully executed. Of the performances of the principal characters we will speak more at

Mr. Marsh-claimed that he had always been

He was an honest Mr. Marsh-claimed that he had always occur and is now an American. He was an honest man, and wanted to be with an honest party, be it Democratic, Republican or American.

The question was then taken on the motion to insert $1,200, and it was lost—ayes 5, nays of the principal characters we will speak more at length horeafter. The music is very fine, and the choruses are sung quite as well as could be expected

The motion to strike out $1,100 and insert $1,000 was likewise lost.

Mr. J. B. Davis moved to raise the salary of the chain carriers from $450 to $550.

Mr. Weasner said that the chain carrier was a boy, not a man; $450 was enough, as he was learning engineering and was an apprentice. from any dramatic company.

The costumes and properties have been for the most part well chosen, and seem to have been taken, to gother with all the properties, from authentic litustrations. In speaking of this matter, however, we would parenthetically suggest to the manager that we noticed a couple of Mamphians, and one or two priests of Isis, who were heavy modern boots, and Mr. Davis's motion was lost. The ordihave no doubt that upon the next representation of the drama, he will see that they see provided with sandais. Altogether The Prodigal Son is a unimirably placed upon the stage, and should be witnessed by nance was then passed.

WOOD'S THEATER.-This evening Mr. Simmons, the naher of Wood's Theater, has a benefit at this establishment, and offers a programme of suf-ficient magnetic power to attract an overflowing audience. It consists of the beautiful drama of All dience. It consists of the beautiful drama of All that Glitters is not Gold; a splendid dance by Kate Pennoyer, the graceful danceses; the languable farce of The Stage-struck Tuffort in which Miss Hannah Simmons will make her first appearance on any stage, in the character of "Sally Seraggs;" a fancy dance by little Katy Robinson; and the new local drama, by Durivage, entitled Good and Lett, in which Mr. B. will small the principal character. The Mr. D. will enact the principal character. The deserts of Mr. Simmons, together with the variety which he offers for the entertainment of his friends should secure him a substantial benefit.

XXXVIOL CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION

WASHINGTON, April 4. SENATE.—Mr. Green moved that the resolutions offered by him yesterday, censuring the Controller of the Treasury for a decision defeating the express will of Congress, and for refusing to obey its order, thereby incurring the disapprobation of Congress, which renders it improper that he longer remain in office.

Mr. Saulsbury said that the Controller has discharged his duty in accordance with the opinion of the Attorney-General, and was he to be arraigned by the Senate for faithfully discharging his duty.

Mr. Green urged the passage of the resolution.

Mr. Green urged the passage of the resolution.

Mr. Pugh said he would suggest the resolution be laid-over. Gov. Medill had gone to Ohio on account of illness, and had not seen the resolution, and when he returned he would meet any charge made against him.

Mr. Green said that Gov. Medill had a copy of the resolutions with him he had read them, and had not left for Ohio until after they were presented to the Senate. He wanted the case investigated.

Mr. Bayard said it was not proper for the Senate to condemn an officer and ask for his removal. This was no tharge of fraud. An officer had made a decision involving a question of law, whether it was wrong or not. It was not the province of the Senate to decide, nor its right to consure his action.

Mr. Benjamin said he desired to offer an amendment. The resolution assumed to state the fact.

Bill was resumed.

After a lengthy debate, Mr. Nelson moved the previous question, and the main question was ordered to be put; 114 against 75.

Mr. Nelson, who reported the bill, was allowed an hour to close the debate, without concluding he gave way to a motion to adjourn, which prevailed. Adjourned. Bill was resumed.

Boston, April 4.—F. B. Sanborn was arrested at Concord by U. S. officers last night, under a requisition from the Senate Committee. Judge Howard, of the Suprame Court, has issued a writ of habeas corpus, and the hearing is now progressing in this city.

Boston, April 4.—4 P. M.—At the hearing of the habeas corpus writ in the case of Sanborn, his counsel presented the following points:

points:

1st. That the Sergeant-at-Arms of the United States Senate has no power out of the District of Columbia, which is exclusively under the jurisdiction of Congress.

2d. That the precept for arrest being directed to the Sergeant-at-arms by Lane, he alone can serve it.

3d. That the Sergeant-at-arms can not deputize his nowers to others out of the District.

utize his powers to others out of the District of Columbia.

utize his powers to others out of the District of Columbia.

After hearing the argument of the counsel. Chief Justice Shaw briefly reviewed the circumstances of the case, stating that it presented no conflict of authority between the Executive of the United States and of the Executive Officers of this Commonwealth. As to the first point taken the Court was not prepared to say that the Senate would not have its precepts herved outside of the District of Columbia. On the third point there was no doubt, and all the Court were agreed that he had no such authority. A warrant of the sort must be limited to the person to whom it is given by the Senate. The order of the Court was that Sanborn be discharged. The rendition of the decision called forth demonstrations of applause, which were speedily checked. The Court-room was thronged. Sanborn left with his friends for home.

The Judges, sitting in General Term, heard an argument upon a motion for a new trial in the case of Hertzler, Baker & Co., ex. Dunlevy & Co.

STABBING AFFRAY ON BROADWAY.—About one o'clock yesterday morning, a couple of men named James Haskins and Thomes Jones, became involved in a difficulty in a drinking-houseon Broadway, a short distance above the cenal, and during the males that ensued, the latter was severely cut under the right eye and in the fleshy part of the left arm, by a small pocket-kaife in the hands of the former. The wounds were quite painful, and it was thought the eye had been destroyed; but it is now possible that it will heal without permanent injury to the sight. Haskins escaped, and as yet, we believe has not been arrested.

POLICE COURT.—Mayor Foley was more than usually busy yesterday. No less than six cases—an unusually large number for one day in this city—were disposed of as follows: Ellen Beaty, Jenny McIntyre and Bridget McMahon were committed to jail for twelve months, in default of $100 bail for their good conduct during that period; James H. Harrison was fined $$ 80 for disorderly conduct at passage and committed to jail in default of $500 bail on a peace warrant; George Scott was fined $$ 20 for fast driving, and Mike Reagen was fined $$ 20 for drunkenness.

and Messes, Majors and Russell, of the Express Company, who in brief and appropriate remarks set forth the benefits to be derived by the country from this undertaking, and the prospects of its future and undoubted success, which were received with applause.
The Messesger, from New York, lost a connection by the withdrawal of a train between Detroit and Chicago, which would have delayed the Express iswenty-four hours, but through the courtesy of General Suparintendent Hayward, of the Hanmibal and St. Joseph Railroad, who brought him here by a special train from Palmyrs, running four hundred and ninety-two miles in four hours and fifty-one minutes, making six stops of five minutes each, he arrived so as to only delay the Express two hours and fifteen

From Washington.

Washington, April 4.—Mr. Augustus Schell appeared before Mr. Covode's Committee to-day, and refused distinctly to produce the list of contributors to the electionearing fund raised by the New York Hotel Committee, without assigning any sufficiently satisfactory reason. He was asked by Mr. Covode whether he did not confer with the President and members of the Cabinet between the period of his first examination, when he admitted having this list among his papers, and expressed a willingness to submit it, and the second examination next day, when he proposed a written substitute for his testimony of the first day, declining to deliver this paper. He tried to avade this inquiry by stating that he had seen many persons between those two days, but when pressed directly, he said he had seen the President and members of the Cabinet, and it was after conference with them that he concluded not to exhibit the list to the committee.

In speaking of him the Tribune says: "The elevation for the new Dusseldorf Gal-"The elevation for the new Dusseldorf Gallery in Broadway has been drawn by Mr. Hamilton, who has designed some very admirable buildings in Cincinnati, where he has resided for several years. It exhibits a very handsome front, thirty feet wide and five stories high, highly decorated, the string-piece of the third story resting upon the heads of three carytides, representing sculpture, painting and science. The gallery will be two hundred feet deep, and divided into three apartments, one for American paintings, one for sculpture, and one for foreign works of art. The site is opposite Laura Reene's Theater, and the front is to be of white marble. The work is to be commenced at once, and it is intended to have the gallery venture. The work is to be commenced at once, and it is intended to have the gallery ready for occupancy by the first of next October.

RUNAWAY AND ACCIDENT-WOMAN BADLY RUNAWAY AND ACCIDENT—WOMAN BADLY INJURED.—A couple of horses attached to a market-wagon, and driven by a Mrs. Frank Bachman, who resides at Lick Run, took fright yesterday morning on Court-street, and ran off, throwing the driver out upon the payement and injuring her quite severely.
